50 Gorgeous Color Schemes From Award-Winning Websites

Written by:
Nayomi Chibana

Color is such a fundamental part of the way we perceive the world that we often take it for granted. Think about it: From the youthful and vivid orange on someone's attire to the gray and gloomy sky above us, colors have the power to mold our perceptions of others and even the circumstances we find ourselves in.

This is why one of the most powerful tools in a designer's arsenal is color. It can either make or break a design; it can be the determining factor in engaging viewers or sending them promptly on their way.

As a non-designer, I often find it difficult to find just the right colors for my amateur projects. Whether I'm creating a simple image to support my content or more elaborate projects such as a slide deck or infographic, I frequently spend a good amount of time looking for the perfect color scheme. I ask myself questions like: Do I want my design to be inviting? Provocative and bold? Or intelligent and elegant?

Unless you're a seasoned designer, it takes time and effort to find a color combination that works within your website's design principles (https://www.market-inspector.co.uk/web-design), which is why the design team at Visme (http://www.visme.co) decided to provide our users with a handy list of beautiful color schemes from websites that have been recognized by Awwwards (http://www.awwwards.com/), the most prestigious award for Web designers and developers.
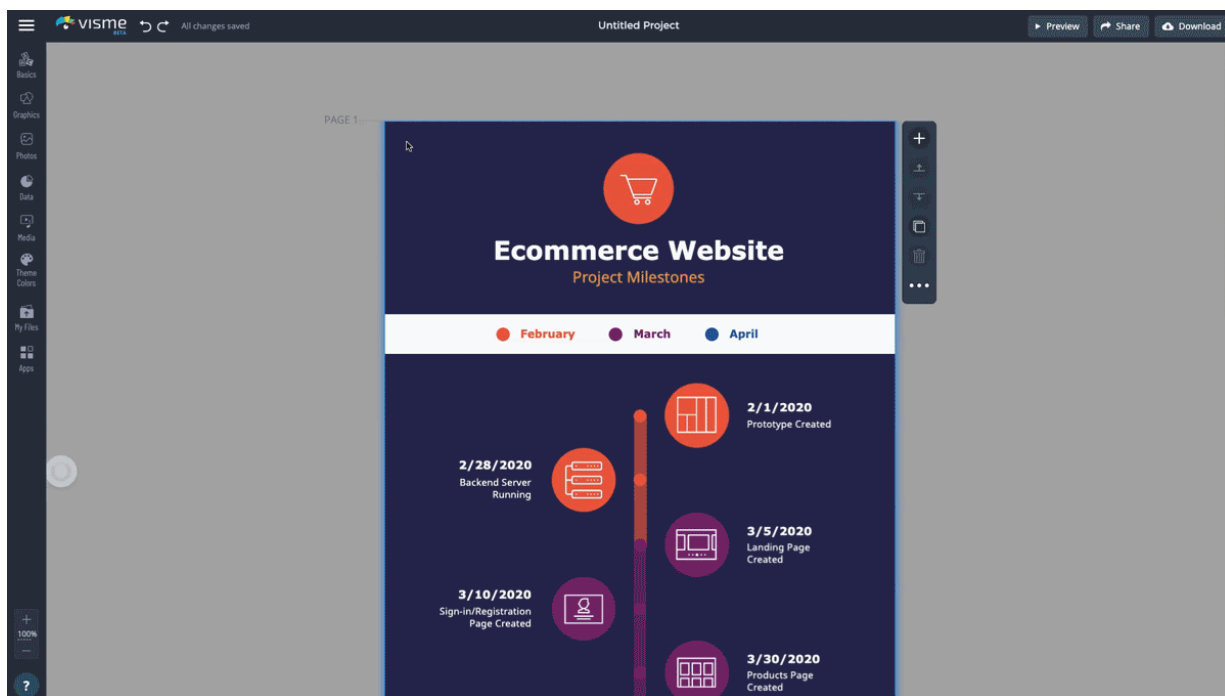

Apply any of these beautiful color presets to your designs.

After receiving plenty of positive feedback on our first color combination guide (https://visme.co/blog/color-combinations/), we knew that our audience would appreciate another round of gorgeous palettes to choose from.

You can easily apply these to any of your Visme (http://www.visme.co/) projects by using the hex codes provided to the right of each image, as seen in the GIF above.

SMFB (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/diadora-bright-delivery)

This is another example of a site that effectively uses a bright accent color to delineate a path for the viewers' eyes. In this case, the bright yellow draws the eye first to the title, then the path up the mountain and finally to the call-to-action buttons at the bottom of the page.

29 Modernity in Full Bloom

Nurture Digital (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/nurture-digital)

This combination of ocean green, aquamarine and sea green perfectly communicates the concept of modernity and at the same time, life and fertility, which is totally in sync with some of the words in the site's central message: digital, nurture and bloom.

30 Close to Nature

Born05 (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/ifly50)

This earthy combination of green with a range of blues, from pale cerulean to teal blue, is perfect for conservative designs intended to project an image of stability, reliability and abundance.

(https://www.visme.co/?vc=In-Text-Blog-CTA-New)

31 Bright Pink and Pastels

This lively site brings together a bright raspberry pink with softer colors such as pastel blue and light pastel purple. The result is a wonderfully fresh and lighthearted color scheme.

32 Unique Combination

AILOVE (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/in-space-we-trust)

This unlikely blend of a range of dark pinks with a blues makes this a unique and engaging combination that can be used for a range of projects in different fields.

33 Striking Citrus Colors

Superhero Cheesecake (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/adidas-ace-16)

This fresh and citrusy blend of light greenish-yellows, lime green and black is a favorite among brands related to high-adrenaline sports and energy drinks.

34 Vivid Blues and Orange

Burocratik (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/quiver-new-sharing-made-for-people)

The bright turquoise background and orange call-to-action button on this site may be a bit loud for some visitors, but the combination definitely conveys high-energy emotions, which go along with the image in the background.

35 Rose Red and Blueberry

Google Brand Studio (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/petra-in-streetview)

This range of pinks and reds with a bright blue call-to-action button creates plenty of visual interest and draws attention to itself immediately.

36 Audacious and Unique

Details (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/details-1)

This bold and unique combination of royal blue and gold, with vivid cyan highlights, captures the eye. Its unexpected and somewhat out-of-the-box thinking help make this website a winner.

37 Cheerful and Energetic

Cher Ami (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/a-short-journey)

The cyan, blues and oranges on this page make this a particularly inviting and energetic design that can be applied to projects with an optimistic and uplifting message.

38 Snowy Yet Warm

Leavingstone (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/tolia-the-longest-short-films)

This wintery red and blue combination evokes both coolness and warmth at the same time, similar to images related to the winter holidays.

39 Rich and Colorful

Elespacio (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/around-the-world-in-12-dishes)

This bright and rich color combination brings together a vivid yellow, blue and pink in this beautiful minimalist design, which can be used in lively yet professional projects.

40 Modern and Minimalist

SFCD (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/sfcd-1)

This site pulls off an attractive design with just a few elements and a well-chosen color scheme. Turkish rose, middle green and yellow geometric shapes over a black and gray background are enough to catch the viewer's eye.

41 Intrepid and Fearless

Great Works Copenhagen (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/holm-marcher-co)

This effective color combination uses shades of blue and red to create a sense of boldness and ardent professionalism, ideal for designs looking to convey power and competence.

42 Flat Design Colors

Resn (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/chekhov-is-alive)

Even if you're not familiar with the term flat design, you've probably seen it before: Websites with no drop shadows, no gradients, no bevels; in short, no three-dimensional elements.

While the site above adds a bit of a shadow effect to the boy on the right, it would technically qualify as flat design 2.0, which is nothing more than the addition of a few very subtle three-dimensional effects.

As seen here, flat design colors tend to be very bright and super saturated.

43 Eclectic and Peaceful

Play (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/le-mugs)

This unique combination of a coffee tone with sky blue and different shades of brown makes this a soothing and comforting color scheme: Something reminiscent of your favorite coffee house or lounge.

44 Classy and Traditional details.ch (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/849-paul-smith-caran-d-ache)

This combination of cameo pink, UCLA blue and and granite gray brings to mind the kind of attire used by well-to-do, preppy college students. Although this makes sense considering the site's target audience, this scheme can also be used in any design looking for both seriousness and a bit of liveliness.

45 Accent Colors That Pop

stinkdigital (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/taste-rewind)

This Spotify site makes perfect use of a grape-colored accent against a very dark desaturated violet. This color scheme can be used for any design where you have a few elements or a central message you really want to pop.

46 Corporate and Serious

EPIC (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/crop-trust-annual-report-2014)

Oxford blue with a few bright blue and red highlights make this a very traditional and corporate site. Blue and green, which convey professionalism and stability, are commonly used colors for corporate reports.

47 Glamorous and Fashion-Forward

Apart (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/apart-collective)

This blend of gold, purple and black bring to mind words such as wealth and extravagance. Accordingly, this combination can be applied to designs related to fashion, luxury and high-end products.

48 Eye-Catching and Sleek

FUTURAMO (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/history-of-icons)

This beautiful combination of viridian green and telemagenta over a dark background creates heightened visual interest and draws the viewer in at first glance. Bold yet professional, this color combination, when used correctly, can even be applied to corporate designs.

49 Loud and In-Your-Face

Panic (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/panic)

Whereas the previous color scheme was eye-catching--but not too bright--this combination is purposely loud, to the point that it might repel some viewers. When looking to make a bold statement, though, this combination may work well when done right, as in this case.

50 Lively Yet Soothing

madeo (http://www.awwwards.com/sites/qed-group)

This relaxing yet cheerful combination of lemon, yellow, mint and dark cyan make this an ideal color scheme for any message looking to convey energy, optimism and, at the same time, harmony and growth.

Thank you for the color codes on each website. I want to try it for covers and my website, too. I'm the type of person who kept on changing website colors and themes. Do you think I should stop it?

Thanks for the feedback, Lisa. I definitely think it's best to maintain a consistent visual identity, and that includes color schemes as well. You can check out our post on how to create a brand style guide to help you stay on brand across all your visual content: https://visme.co/blog/brand-identity/ (https://visme.co/blog/brand-identity/) And if you find a need to rebrand at any point, here's also a useful post on that: https://visme.co/blog/rebranding-strategy/ (https://visme.co/blog/rebranding-strategy/)

So I recently changed the color palette on my portfolio website and after a few experiments, I finally settled on a color scheme I like, more or less. (I say more or less because I tend to get bored FAST and want to change up my color scheme.) I was looking at this list and I'm pretty drawn to #44. Love using blue and pink together since they're my fave colors.

When designing ANYTHING, it's important to test it ouut on how it looks on different monitors though. For example, the newer high res monitors that my company's design team uses has wayyy better color accuracy than my laptop. It's a big issue when we are presenting something new to clients and they don't see what we see. You can't always guarantee that your clients necessarily have the newest tech and that the colors are displayed properly.

Choosing a color theme and developing a mood board is so important BEFORE you start the design of your site. Colors should be what you like, but more importantly something that showcases your brand. I think its awesome when brands go to bold colors, even those that seem irrational. It really makes them stand out amongst their competitors. Great read! Thanks!

Yes, I think that says a lot about how colors impact a brand. I believe that certain colors appeal to certain emotions, such as McDonald's and Wendy's using the red and yellow colors to provoke hunger and cravings. If a business can fine-tune their color strategy, I think that it would noticeably benefit their success rate.

The 2nd color of the #7 theme seems to have the wrong hex color. When I put in #379683 it is a greenish color. I used a color picker and it seems like #938E94 is closer to the color it is supposed to be. You might want to take a second look at it. Also thanks for the examples. It's one of the better color theme lists.

Have been learning about colour psychology for my proposed website. Thought I had it nailed. Yes, blue or green had to be the primary colour. Then I saw your 50 really good colour combination examples. I like numbers 5, 18, 24, 29 and 44. Probably/maybe/not sure if my overall favourite is 18. A day of indecision ahead!
